4 ideas

1. Comics made from my previous project (speechless) I did.

2. Dots – small dots across the screen, which will change colors after mouseover.

3. Dot – one dot in the middle of the screen and after each mouseclic on it will expand across the page as the crown of the tree.

4. Pexeso - game where is the goal find a similar couples in the table of cards.

Congratulations, You LOST!

You´ve spent enough time on this completely useless website.
Rather than you were anywhere else and enjoying life.

Reflective report

I realy enjoyed this project because I like learning new things and in terms of programming or opportunities that it offers me I am a real beginner and I would like to improve on that because in that is a great future and the opportunity to earn money this way in the future. I think that I have expanded the horizons of use of the Internet and coding which is very beneficial for me. I chose my game because I was wonder how it would be possible to create it and how it will work. I think the final version is altogether a success and works as it should which makes me happy.
